The height of the eastern of the barometer is 189 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.
Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of correction deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean reading of the wet bulb thermometer, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.
The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometer records for the 16 years ending 1875.
In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.
The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.
The record of electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.
The numbers in column 25 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.
The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.
The reading of the barometer increased from 29.88 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.01 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 18th; decreased to 29.73 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 19th; increased to 30.07 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 21st; decreased to 29.14 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 22nd; increased to 30.05 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 24th; and decreased to 29.66 in. by the end of the week.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 21·5 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 1·3 in Plymouth, 1·4 in Bradford and 1·6 in Nottingham; from scarlet fever, 0·7 in Bristol and 1·3 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 2·1 in Salford, 2·2 in Derby, and 3·1 in Blackburn; and from "fever," 1·1 in Derby. The 24 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 15 in London, 3 in Norwich, 2 in Sunderland, and 2 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Small-pox caused 19 deaths in Sheffield, 3 in Blackburn, 2 in Nottingham, one in Bristol, one in Manchester, and one in Hull, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-one other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2492 BIRTHS and 1668 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 318, and the deaths 244, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 23·0, 19·5, and 20·2 in the three preceding weeks, was last week 20·3. During the thirteen weeks of last quarter the death-rate averaged 22·0 per 1000, and was 1·7 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1668 deaths included 17 from measles, 40 from scarlet fever, 15 from diphtheria, 93 from whooping-cough, one from typhus, 13 from enteric fever, 16

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 195 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 53 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 18. There were only 9 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last (against 15 at the end of the previous week), and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 22 and 18 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 17, and were 35 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Fulham, and 4 to Hackney sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever rose from 25 and 24 in the two previous weeks to 40, and exceeded the corrected average by 12; 3 belonged to Paddington (including 2 at 44, Fernhead Road), 2 to Hammersmith, 2 to Chelsea, 4 to Westminster (including 2 from Peabody Buildings), 2 to Islington, 2 to St. George-in-the-East, 2 to Mile End Old Town, 3 to Lambeth, 4 to Camberwell, and 6 (including 4 from Mason's Court, Deptford) to Greenwich sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1087 scarlet fever patients (there were also 84 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the seventeen preceding weeks from 2600 to 1107; 70 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, showing a further decline from the numbers in recent weeks. The 15 deaths from diphtheria showed a further decline from recent weekly numbers, but were one above the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hackney, and 3 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 101, 92, and 80 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 93, but were 9 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Kensington, 4 to Hammersmith, 4 to Fulham, 8 to Hackney, 4 to Clerkenwell, and 8 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 16 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery showed an increase of 10 upon the low number in the previous week, and exceeded the corrected average by 3.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 10 in each of the two preceding weeks, rose to 13 last week, but were 3 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Fulham, 2 to Pancras, and 2 to Hackney sanitary areas. The fatal case of typhus was of a carman, aged 33 years, at 26, Ewald Road, Fulham, the disease being attributed by the certifying practitioner to the insanitary condition of the road as well as of the house. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 133 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 11 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 490, 459; and 457 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 460, and were 59 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 75 deaths; 71 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 25 from fractures and contusions, 10 from burns and scalds, one from drowning, 3 from poison, and 22 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 25 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—7 by accident from vehicles in the street; 1 by accident on the railway; 5 by fall down stairs or steps; 1 by fall from bed; 1 by fall from window; 1 by fall from nurse's arms; 1 by fall from bicycle; 1 by fall of sugar-bag; 1 by blow or fall; 1 by fall in fit; 1 by fall (intoxicated); and 2 by injuries and 2 by fall, the causes of which were not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 25 cases. Two cases of suicide were registered, being 6 below the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3166 births and 2109 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 29·9 and 19·9 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 41 deaths from whooping-cough, 5 from scarlet fever, 4 from diphtheria, and 4 from "fever," were registered. The fatal cases of whooping-cough included 11 in Edmonton and 10 in West Ham registration districts. Three deaths from scarlet fever were returned in Kingston sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 28·98 in.; the lowest reading was 28·57 in. on Wednesday afternoon, and the highest 29·80 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 40°·0, and 3°·4 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed a slight excess on Thursday but was below the average on each of the other days of the week. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 11·1 miles per hour, which was 1·3 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on six days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·87 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 11·2 hours, against 13·4 hours at Glyndo Place, Lewes.

NOTE. The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations were usually taken at 9h, P.M., and 3h, P.M. and 3h, P.M. The means of the above readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer were converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean maximum and minimum readings of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the wet bulb thermometer, forming the mean daily value of the temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29·06 in. at the beginning of the week to 28·38 in. by 10 h. P.M. on the 25th; increased to 28·94 in. by 3 h. P.M. on the 26th; decreased to 28·47 in. by 10 h. P.M. on the 27th; increased to 29·00 in. by 10 h. P.M. on the 28th; and decreased to 28·69 in. by 10 h. P.M. on the 29th.

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 1·1 in Derby, and 4·7 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 1·3 in Halifax and in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Manchester and in Liverpool, 1·1 in London, and 2·8 in Salford; and from "fever," 1·0 in Preston, 1·1 in Leicester, and 1·4 in Nottingham. The 27 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 16 in London, 3 in Birmingham, and 3 in Salford. Small-pox caused 14 deaths in Sheffield, one in Manchester, one in Halifax, and one in Leeds, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-three other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2588 BIRTHS and 1593 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 313, and the deaths 261, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 19·5, 20·2, and 20·3 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 19·4.

The 1593 deaths included 16 from measles, 20 from scarlet fever, 16 from diphtheria, 89 from whooping-cough, 20 from enteric fever, one from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 17 from diarrhoea and dysentery, one from cholera

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

diarrhoea, and not one from small-pox or typhus; thus, 180 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 61 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 24. The 16 fatal cases of measles, including 4 in Hackney and 3 in Greenwich sanitary areas, were 39 below the corrected average. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 24 and 40 in the two previous weeks, declined last week to 20, and were 4 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hackney, 2 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Poplar, 2 to Battersea, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The 16 deaths from diphtheria exceeded the corrected average by one. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 80 and 93 in the two preceding weeks, declined again to 89 last week, and were 3 below the corrected average; 7 belonged to Islington, 6 to Hackney, 6 to Poplar, and 8 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The deaths referred to enteric fever further rose last week to 20, from 10 and 13 in the two previous weeks; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Poplar, 2 to Rotherhithe, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas.

In the above Table the deaths in Hospitals and in other Public Institutions (including 65 in the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals also situated outside Registration London) have been distributed to the sanitary areas from which the deceased inmates were admitted. The deaths of 260 non-residents who died in Public Institutions inside London have been excluded from the Table.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3451 births and 1977 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 32·6 and 18·7 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 27 deaths from whooping-cough, 8 from diphtheria, and 5 from scarlet fever, were registered. The fatal cases of whooping-cough included 9 in West Ham, and 3 in Croydon sub-districts; two deaths from diphtheria were returned in Hendon sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·83 in.; the lowest reading was 29·58 in. on Monday afternoon, and the highest 30·09 in. on Friday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 37°·1, and 9°·1 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average throughout the week, the coldest days being Wednesday and Thursday. The general direction of the wind was N.E., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10·3 miles per hour, which was 2·0 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·08 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 29·0 hours, against 29·7 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of MARCH 1888; according to their returns 156,534,723 gallons or 711,209 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 213 gallons (96·8 decalitres), rather less than a ton by weight, to each house, and 27·3 gallons (12·4 decalitres) to each person, against 27·0 gallons during March 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING MARCH.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.
6th April, 1888.

SIR, I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of March.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·5, Colne Valley 0·8, Tottenham 1·6, New River 2·6, East London 2·7, Chelsea 4·1, Southwark 4·3, Lambeth 4·4, Grand Junction 4·8, West Middlesex 5·5.

The Thames water, which throughout the greater part of the winter has contained only a small amount of organic matter for river-water, exhibited during the past month a very marked increase in this respect. This increased proportion of organic matter was almost equally noticeable in the supplies of all the Companies drawing from this source, viz., the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth. Notwithstanding the large amount of organic matter present in the river-water all the samples were clear and bright.

The water principally derived from the Lea, and supplied by the New River Company also showed an increased proportion of organic matter, although the actual amount was much less than in any of the Thames waters. The East London Company's water, owing to the large storage capacity of this Company, was not affected in the same manner, the proportion of organic matter being actually less than in the previous month, and but little in excess of that in the New River water. Both samples were clear and bright.

The deep-well waters pumped by the Kent and Colne Valley Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health being unaffected by surface influences, contained as usual only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company, by softening their supply with lime, thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all other domestic purposes.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent and Colne Valley, clear and colourless; Tottenham, clear and nearly colourless; New River and East London, clear and very pale yellow; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth, clear and yellow.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports of the water supplied to that town that "the organic matter was rather high."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

I am, &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

* Analysed by Dr. Alfred Hill, F.I.C., Medical Officer of Health and Analyst to the Borough.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College.

All the numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 23th March at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 5°·3 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 29·48 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·216 lb. of carbon and ·028 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·280 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·308 lb. The above weight of water also contained 2·0 lbs. of chlorine; and 19·7 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9·043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 0·9 in Nottingham and 2·7 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 1·0 in Birkenhead and in Hull, and 1·1 in Oldham; from whooping-cough, 1·3 in London, 1·8 in Leicester and in Blackburn, and 2·3 in Salford; and from "fever," 1·1 in Derby. The 33 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 19 in London, 4 in Liverpool, and 2 in Sheffield. Small-pox caused 11 deaths in Sheffield, 3 in Blackburn, one in Bristol, and one in Manchester, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-three other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2831 BIRTHS and 1692 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births exceeded by 62, while the deaths were 126 below, the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 20·3 and 19·4 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 20·6. During the thirteen weeks of last quarter the death-rate averaged 22·0 per 1000, and was 1·7 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

The 1692 deaths included 12 from measles, 17 from scarlet fever, 19 from diphtheria, 108 from whooping-cough, 9 from enteric fever, 19 from diarrhoea and

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 184 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 70 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 24. There were 15 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last (against 8 at the end of the previous week), and 2 in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had declined in the four preceding weeks from 22 to 16, further fell last week to 12, and were 48 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Kensington sanitary area. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 40 and 20 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 17, and were 6 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Poplar, and 3 to Lambeth sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1002 scarlet fever patients (there were also 81 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the nineteen preceding weeks from 2600 to 1032; 92 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against numbers declining from 100 to 62 in the five preceding weeks. The 19 deaths from diphtheria showed a further increase upon the numbers in the two preceding weeks, and exceeded the corrected average by one; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Clerkenwell, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The 108 fatal cases of whooping-cough also showed an increase upon recent weekly numbers, and exceeded the corrected average by 11; 7 belonged to Kensington, 8 to Pancras, 6 to Shoreditch, 10 to Bethnal Green, 6 to Stepney, 4 to Newington, 4 to Bermondsey, 7 to Lambeth, and 6 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 6, 16, and 17 in the three preceding weeks, further rose last week to 19, and exceeded the corrected average by 8; 11 were of infants aged under one year.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 10, 13, and 20 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 9, and were 8 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Mile End Old Town, and 2 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 122 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The death of a cab proprietor, aged 32 years, resulted from glanders in Westminster sanitary area.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 460 and 419 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 444, but were 18 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 52 deaths; 42 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 15 from fractures and contusions, 6 from burns and scalds, 4 from drowning, and 14 of infants under one year of age from suffocation, including an infant, aged 5 months, who died through the administration of chloroform in Guy's Hospital. The 15 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—6 by accident from vehicles in the street; 1 by fall into barge; 1 by fall from chair; 1 by blow; 3 by fall, and 1 by injury, and 2 by fracture, the causes of which were not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 15 cases except the last two. Nine cases of suicide were registered, being one above the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3788 births and 2075 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 35·8 and 19·6 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 18 deaths from whooping-cough, 10 from diphtheria, 5 from measles, and 5 from scarlet fever, were registered. Three fatal cases of whooping-cough occurred in Finchley, and 3 of measles in Richmond sub-districts. The 10 deaths from diphtheria included 4 in Enfield and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·75 in.; the highest reading was 29·93 in. on Tuesday evening, and the lowest 29·59 in. on Friday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 42°·2, and 42°·9 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average on each of the first five days of the week, but showed an excess on Friday and Saturday. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 13·3 miles per hour, which was 1·2 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on four days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·11 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 21·5 hours, against 13·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 6).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 19·9 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 0·9 in Bristol and 1·8 in Nottingham; from scarlet fever, 0·8 in Oldham and 0·9 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·4 in Salford and in Bolton, and 1·8 in Blackburn; and from "fever," 1·0 in Preston. The 25 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 10 in London, 3 in Brighton, 2 in Manchester, 2 in Salford, 2 in Oldham, and 2 in Sheffield. Small-pox caused 12 deaths in Sheffield, 3 in Hull, 2 in Oldham, one in Bristol, and one in Manchester, but not one in any of the twenty-two other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2579 BIRTHS and 1552 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 247, and the deaths 221, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 19·4 and 20·6 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 18·9, and was lower than in any previous week of this year. During the first three weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 19·6 per 1000, and was 2·7 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1552 deaths included 18 from measles, 21 from scarlet fever, 10 from diphtheria, 92 from whooping-cough, 13 from enteric fever, 1 from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 23 from diarrhœa and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or cholera; thus, 178 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 76 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 28. There were 21 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against 8 and 15 on the two preceding Saturdays; and 3 in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had declined in the five preceding weeks from 22 to 12, rose again last week to 18, but were 45 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Hackney and 3 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 40, 20, and 17 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 21, but were 4 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Islington, 2 to Wandsworth, 2 to Camberwell (both occurring at 7, Bath Street, Peckham), and 4 to Greenwich sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 961 scarlet fever patients (there were also 84 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the twenty preceding weeks from 2600 to 1002; 91 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 62 and 92 in the two preceding weeks. The 10 deaths from diphtheria, on the other hand, showed a decline from recent weekly numbers, and were 6 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Paddington sanitary area. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 89 and 108 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 92, but were one above the corrected average; 9 belonged to Islington, 6 to Wandsworth, and 7 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had increased in the four preceding weeks from 6 to 19, further rose last week to 23, and exceeded the corrected average by 7; 13 were of infants aged under one year.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 20 and 9 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 13, and exceeded the corrected average by 2; 2 belonged to Pancras and 2 to Shoreditch sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 105 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 460, 419, and 444 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 363, and were 47 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 48 deaths; 36 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 19 from fractures and contusions, 5 from burns and scalds, 3 from drowning, and 6 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 19 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—1 by accident in the street; 3 by accident on the railway; 2 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from window; 1 by fall from scaffold; 2 by fall from planks; 1 by fall from loft; 1 by fall from chair; 1 by fall in room; 1 by fall in playground; 1 by fall in street; 1 by fall, nature of which was not stated; 1 by blow from brick; 1 by fall of skip; and 1 by injuries received while at play. An inquest was held in each of these 19 cases. Twelve cases of suicide were registered, exceeding the corrected average by 3.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3334 births and 1954 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·5 and 18·4 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 30 deaths from whooping-cough, 5 from scarlet fever, and 5 from diphtheria were registered. The fatal cases of whooping-cough included 5 in Willesden, 3 in Hornsey, 3 in West Ham, and 3 in Walthamstow sub-districts. Two deaths from scarlet fever were returned in West Ham sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·53 in.; the highest reading was 29·77 in. on Monday at noon, and the lowest 29·38 in. on Friday at noon. The mean temperature of the air was 48°·5, and 0°·6 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean exceeded the average during the first four, but showed a deficiency during the last three, days of the week. The general direction of the wind was South Westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 12·3 miles per hour, which was 0·1 of a mile above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on five days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·65 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 35·7 hours, against 30·1 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.046 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

GENERAL REMARKS.

The height of the eastern of the barometer is 150 feet above the mean level of the sea, no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 8 a.m., noon, 3 p.m., and 9 p.m. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the wet bulb thermometer, and the wet thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and of the twenty years ending 1888 for the thermometers. With the corrected of the mean readings of the dry bulb thermometers is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P, positive; N, negative; w, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; and v, variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.75 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.57 in. by 8 p.m. on the 15th; increased to 29.77 in. by noon on the 20th, and decreased to 29.53 in.

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 0·7 in Leicester and in Bradford and 1·4 in Bristol; from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Oldham, 1·3 in Blackburn, and 2·4 in Cardiff; from whooping-cough, 1·3 in Wolverhampton and in Halifax, 1·5 in Manchester, and 1·8 in Salford; and from "fever," 1·1 in Leicester. The 35 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 22 in London, 3 in Oldham, 2 in Huddersfield, 2 in Sheffield, and 2 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Small-pox caused 5 deaths in Sheffield, one in London, and one in Bristol, but not one in any of the twenty-five other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2577 BIRTHS and 1437 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 266, and the deaths 274, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 20·6 and 18·9 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 17·5, and was lower than in any previous week of this year. During the first four weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 19·1 per 1000, and was 2·9 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1437 deaths included 1 from small-pox, 16 from measles, 15 from scarlet fever, 22 from diphtheria, 80 from whooping-cough, 7 from enteric fever, 17 from

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from typhus, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 158 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 95 below the corrected average weekly number.

One death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 24; this death was of an Italian asphalte pavior, aged 44 years, which occurred in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospital Ship (off Dartford), to which the patient had been removed from St. Bartholomew's Hospital. There were 21 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against 8, 15, and 21 on the three preceding Saturdays; and 3 in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 12 and 18 in the two previous weeks, declined again to 16 last week, and were 52 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Hackney sanitary area. The 15 deaths from scarlet fever showed a decline of 6 from the number in the previous week, and were 9 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Bethnal Green, 2 to Newington, and 2 to Battersea sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 967 scarlet fever patients (there were also 80 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the twenty-one preceding weeks from 2600 to 961; 79 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 92 and 91 in the two preceding weeks. The 22 deaths from diphtheria, on the other hand, showed an increase of 12 upon the low number in the previous week, and exceeded the corrected average by 5; 2 belonged to Islington, 3 to Hackney, 4 to Poplar, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 108 and 92 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 80, and were 11 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Chelsea, 8 to Battersea, 6 to Wandsworth, and 9 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery, which had increased in the five preceding weeks from 6 to 23, declined last week to 17, but were 3 above the corrected average; 9 were of infants aged under one year.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 20, 9, and 13 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 7, and were 4 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to the South group of sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 110 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 21 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 444 and 363 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 343, and were 41 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 56 deaths; 43 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 19 from fractures and contusions, 4 from burns and scalds, 7 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 8 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 19 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—4 by accidents from vehicles in the street; 1 by accident on railway; 1 by fall from ladder; 1 by fall while playing football; 1 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall in room; 1 by being knocked down by boys in street; 1 by blow from wood while working a circular saw; 5 by falls, the nature of which was not stated; and 3 by fracture the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these cases except in two of the last three. Nine cases of suicide were registered, being 2 below the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3382 births and 1782 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·9 and 16·8 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 28 deaths from whooping-cough, and 9 from diphtheria were registered. The fatal cases of whooping-cough included 13 in the district of West Ham; and of the deaths from diphtheria, 3 occurred in Walthamstow, 2 in Croydon, and 2 in West Ham sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·77 in.; the lowest reading was 29·50 in. at noon on Sunday, and the highest was 30·07 in. on Thursday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 43°·7, and 4°·7 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average on each day of the week until Saturday when it showed an excess. The general direction of the wind was N.E., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 16·9 miles per hour, which was 5·3 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on three days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·67 inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 8·0 hours, against 16·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).
 * The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.
 † As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.
 ‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."
 § The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of the temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1883, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreland, Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes' Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.56 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.50 in.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Overcast. Rain fell throughout afternoon.

Overcast. Occasional light showers till afternoon; continuous and, at times, heavy rain after 4h. P.M.

Overcast. Rain fell till 1h. A.M.; slight fog prevailed between 8h. A.M. and 10h. A.M.

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 0·5 in Bristol, in Preston, and in Bradford, and 0·9 in Nottingham; from scarlet fever, 0·9 in Salford and 1·3 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·1 in Norwich, in Manchester, and in London, 1·3 in Blackburn, and 3·2 in Salford; and from "fever," 0·6 in Manchester and 0·9 in Salford. The 31 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 15 in London, 2 in Brighton, 2 in Bristol, 2 in Liverpool, 3 in Manchester, and 2 in Sheffield. Small-pox caused 8 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Bristol, one in Oldham, and one in Hull, but not one in any of the twenty-three other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2650 BIRTHS and 1429 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 208, and the deaths 236, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 20·6, 18·9, and 17·5 in the three preceding weeks, further declined last week to 17·4, and was lower than in any previous week of this year. During the first five weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 18·8 per 1000, and was 2·9 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1429 deaths included 14 from measles, 23 from scarlet fever, 15 from diphtheria, 87 from whooping-cough, 1 from typhus, 11 from enteric fever, 19 from

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

diarrhœa and dysentery, and] not one from small-pox, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 170 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 83 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 26. There were 16 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against 21 on each of the two preceding Saturdays; and 2 in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 18 and 16 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 14, and were 51 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Kensington sanitary area. The 23 deaths from scarlet fever showed an increase of 8 upon the number in the previous week, but were 7 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Kensington, 2 to Hackney, 2 to St. Luke's, 3 to Poplar, 2 to Bermondsey, 3 to Lambeth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week, the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 920 scarlet fever patients (there were also 80 in the London Fever Hospital), against 961 and 967 in the two preceding weeks; 70 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 91 and 79 in the two previous weeks. The 15 deaths from diphtheria showed a decline of 7 from the number in the previous week, and were one below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Islington, 3 to Hackney, and 2 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 108, 91, and 80 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 87, and exceeded the corrected average by 5; 7 belonged to Kensington, 7 to Chelsea, 8 to Bermondsey, and 8 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 23 and 17 in the two previous weeks, rose again last week to 19, and exceeded the corrected average by 2; 10 were of infants aged under one year.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 13 and 7 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 11, but were one below the corrected average; 4 belonged to the East group of sanitary areas, and 2 were hospital cases admitted from outside the area of registration London. The fatal case of typhus was of a female, aged 17 years, in Holyoak Road, Newington sanitary area. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 106 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths from puerperal fever, which had been 6 in each of the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 12, and exceeded the corrected average by 7; 5 occurred in the West group of sanitary areas.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 444, 363, and 343 in the three preceding weeks, further declined last week to 287, and were 70 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 39 deaths; 35 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 13 from fractures and contusions, 3 from burns and scalds, 2 from drowning, and 13 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 13 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—2 by accidents from vehicles in the street; 1 by fall from railway carriage; 3 by fall down stairs or steps; 1 by fall in street; 1 by fall at birth; 1 by fall from wharf; 1 by fall of pole; and 3 by falls, the nature of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 13 cases. Four cases of suicide were registered, being 3 below the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3427 births and 1812 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 32·3 and 17·1 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 24 fatal cases of whooping-cough, and 5 of "fever" were registered. The fatal cases of whooping-cough included 5 in Finchley, 4 in Tottenham, and 3 in Edmonton and in West Ham sub-districts. Fever caused 2 deaths in Tottenham, and scarlet fever 2 in Croydon sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·70 in.; the lowest reading was 29·23 in. on Tuesday morning, and the highest was 30·15 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 49°·0, and equal to the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on Monday, Tuesday, and Saturday, but was below the average on each of the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was South Westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 19·8 miles per hour, which was 9·0 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·16 inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 43·2 hours, against 36·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.044 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the eastern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea, no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1875 for the barometer, and during the thirty years ending 1887 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hydro-metrical Tables. The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: -P, positive; N, negative; v, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; and v, variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 17·6 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates from measles were 0·5 in Nottingham and 0·9 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Huddersfield and 1·8 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·1 in Derby, 1·4 in Manchester, and 3·2 in Salford; and from "fever," 0·7 in Leicester and 0·9 in Nottingham. The 26 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 15 in London, 2 in Norwich, and 2 in Liverpool. Small-pox caused 3 deaths in Sheffield, one in Manchester, one in Preston, and one in Leeds, but not one in any of the twenty-three other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2574 BIRTHS and 1360 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 226, and the deaths 249, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had declined in the four preceding weeks from 20·6 to 17·4, further fell last week to 16·6, and was lower than in any previous week since the beginning of October last. During the first six weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 18·4 per 1000, and was 2·9 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

The 1360 deaths included 22 from measles, 19 from scarlet fever, 15 from diphtheria, 52 from whooping-cough, 9 from enteric fever, 1 from an undefined form of continued fever, 14 from diarrhoea and dysentery, 1 from infantile cholera, and not one from small-pox or from typhus; thus, 133 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 102 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 23. There were 11 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against 21 and 16 on the two preceding Saturdays; and 1 in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 16 and 14 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 22, but were 43 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Kensington, and 5 to Hackney sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 15 and 23 in the previous two weeks, declined again last week to 19, and were 7 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hackney, 3 to St. Luke's, 3 to Lambeth, 2 to Battersea, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 904 scarlet fever patients (there were also 75 in the London Fever Hospital), against 967 and 921 in the two preceding weeks; 91 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 91, 79, and 70 in the three previous weeks. The 15 deaths referred to diphtheria corresponded with the number in the preceding week, and exceeded the corrected average by one; 2 belonged to Kensington sanitary area. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 80 and 87 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 52, and were 33 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Paddington, 4 to Kensington, 6 to Pancras, and 4 to St. George Southwark sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery, which had been 23, 17, and 19 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 14, but exceeded the corrected average by 2; 7 were of infants aged under one year. The death of an infant aged 5 months was referred to cholera infantum.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 13, 7, and 11 in the preceding three weeks, declined again last week to 9, and were one below the corrected average. The death of a male, aged 61 years, in Newington sanitary area, was indefinitely referred to continued fever. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 99 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 6 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had declined in the four preceding weeks from 444 to 287, further fell last week to 260, and were 74 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 51 deaths; 38 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 14 from fractures and contusions, 2 from burns and scalds, 5 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 13 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 14 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—4 by accidents from vehicles in the street; 3 by fall from window; 1 by fall in lift; 1 by fall into dock; 1 by fall at play; 1 by fall against wall; 1 by injuries from machinery; and 2 by fall, the nature of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 14 cases. Twelve cases of suicide were registered, being 3 above the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3365 births and 1710 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·8 and 16·1 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 16 fatal cases of whooping-cough were registered, of which 2 occurred in Bexley, 2 in Tottenham, 2 in West Ham, and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 30·16 in.; the lowest reading was 30·02 in. on Tuesday afternoon, and the highest 30·30 in. on Friday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 52°·8, and 1°·4 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on each of the first three days, whereas it was below the average during the remainder of the week. The general direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10·1 miles per hour, which was 0·3 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. No rain was measured during the week. The Duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 51·0 hours, against 56·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of APRIL 1888; according to their returns 153,608,044 gallons or 697,912 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 209 gallons (5·0 decalitres), rather less than a ton by weight, to each house, and 26·7 gallons (12·1 decalitres) to each person, against 27·9 gallons during April 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING APRIL.

Grove House, Pembridge Square, W.,
11th May, 1888.

SIR, I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of April.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·5, Colne Valley 0·8, Tottenham 0·8, New River 0·9, West Middlesex 2·8, Grand Junction 2·9, Lambeth 3·3, Southwark and East London 3·4, Chelsea 3·5.

The Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies contained in every case considerably less organic matter than in the previous month's samples, the absolute amount being small for river water. All the samples were clear and bright on delivery.

Of the water principally drawn from the Lea, the New River Company's supply exhibited a similar reduction in the organic matter, which fell to its usually small amount; the East London Company's water, on the other hand, contained rather more organic matter than in the previous month, although the actual amount was not in excess of that present in some of the Thames waters. Both samples were clear and bright.

The deep-well water of the Kent and Colne Valley Companies and of the Tottenham Local Board of Health contained as usual only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company, by softening their supply with lime, thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all domestic uses.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, Colne Valley, Tottenham, and New River, clear and colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, Lambeth, and East London, clear and pale yellow.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town “presented an improvement in all respects on the March sample.”

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was “light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter.”

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

I am, &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

All the numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 24th April at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 9·5 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 28·94 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·165 lb. of carbon and ·041 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·265 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·306 lb. The above weight of water also contained 1·9 lbs. of chlorine; and 19·4 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).
† The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.
‡ As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.
§ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When a medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."
|| The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 18·9 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 0·5 in Nottingham and 1·3 in Wolverhampton; from scarlet fever, 0·9 in Bolton, 1·0 in Cardiff, and 1·3 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·4 in Manchester, 2·5 in Salford, and 2·6 in Sheffield; and from "fever," 0·5 in Salford and 0·6 in Wolverhampton. The 39 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 29 in London and 3 in Norwich. Small-pox caused 8 deaths in Sheffield and one in Bristol, but not one in any of the twenty-five other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2364 BIRTHS and 1469 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 311, and the deaths 129, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had declined in the five preceding weeks from 20·6 to 16·6, rose again last week to 17·9. During the first seven weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 18·3 per 1000, and was 2·8 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1469 deaths included 18 from measles, 13 from scarlet fever, 29 from diphtheria, 64 from whooping-cough, 12 from enteric fever, 15 from diarrhœa and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, ill-defined forms of "fever," or cholera; thus, 151 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 82 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 26. There were only 6 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against 21, 16, and 11 on the three preceding Saturdays; and 1 in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 14 and 22 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 18, and were 46 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Kensington, and 5 to Hackney sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever further declined last week to 13, from 23 and 19 in the two previous weeks, and were 12 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hammersmith and 4 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 915 scarlet fever patients (there were also 72 in the London Fever Hospital), against 967, 921, and 904 in the three preceding weeks; 82 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 70 and 91 in the two previous weeks. The deaths referred to diphtheria, which had been 15 in each of the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 29, and exceeded the corrected average by 17; 3 belonged to Paddington, 3 to Kensington, 3 to Hackney, 3 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Lambeth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 87 and 52 in the two previous weeks, rose again last week to 64, but were 10 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Pancras, 5 to Bermondsey, 7 to Lambeth, and 4 to Battersea sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 19 and 14 in the preceding two weeks, rose to 15 last week, and were one below the corrected average; 9 were of infants aged under one year.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 7, 11, and 9 in the preceding three weeks, rose last week to 12, and corresponded with the corrected average. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 92 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had declined in the five preceding weeks from 444 to 260, rose again last week to 296, but were 11 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 63 deaths; 46 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 21 from fractures and contusions, 6 from burns and scalds, 7 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 9 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 21 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—5 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 1 by fall from horse in park; 1 by kick from horse; 2 by accident on railway; 1 by fall from roof; 1 by fall from window; 2 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall in street; 3 by fall of heavy substance; 2 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 1 by blow; and 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 21 cases, except the last. Thirteen cases of suicide were registered, being 4 above the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3101 births and 1779 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 29·3 and 16·8 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 23 deaths from whooping-cough, 5 from diphtheria, and 5 from "fever," were registered. The deaths in West Ham sub-district included 5 from whooping-cough, 2 from diphtheria, and 2 from "fever"; 4 fatal cases of whooping-cough were registered in Bromley, and 2 of diphtheria in Enfield sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·58 in.; the highest reading was 30·20 in. at the beginning of the week, and the lowest 29·37 in. on Wednesday afternoon. The mean temperature of the air was 55°·9, and 2°·6 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, but showed a considerable excess on each of the other days of the week. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 11·8 miles per hour, which was 1·4 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·32 in. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 39·4 hours, against 40·6 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).
 * The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.144 per cent. for increase of population.
 † As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.
 ‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."
 § The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident; murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the eastern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea, no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are eye-readings of the mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metric Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 29 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 23, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 30.20 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.57 in. at the end.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 0·7 in Nottingham and 1·1 in Derby; from scarlet fever, 0·9 in Blackburn and 1·3 in Halifax; from whooping-cough, 1·2 in Leeds and 1·6 in Salford; and from "fever," 0·5 in Derby and in Hull. The 29 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 19 in London, 2 in Norwich, and 2 in Liverpool. Small-pox caused 3 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Preston, one in Bristol, one in Oldham, and one in Hull, but not one in any of the twenty-two other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2278 BIRTHS and 1361 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 413, and the deaths 203, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 16·6 and 17·9 in the preceding two weeks, declined again last week to 16·6. During the first eight weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 18·1 per 1,000, and was 2·8 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1361 deaths included 23 from measles, 17 from scarlet fever, 19 from diphtheria, 64 from whooping-cough, 10 from enteric fever, 3 from ill-defined forms of "fever," 9 from diarrhoea and dysentery, 2 from choleraic diarrhoea, and not one either from small-pox or typhus; thus, 147 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 97 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 25. There were only 4 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against numbers declining from 21 to 6 on the four preceding Saturdays; and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 22 and 18 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 23, but were 45 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Kensington, and 5 to Hackney sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 23, 19, and 13 in the three previous weeks, were last week 17, and were 12 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Marylebone, 2 to Poplar, and 2 to Lambeth sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 891 scarlet fever patients (there being also 67 in the London Fever Hospital), against 904 and 915 in the two preceding weeks; 66 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 91 and 82 in the two previous weeks. The 19 deaths from diphtheria showed a decline of 10 from the high number in the previous week, but were 3 above the corrected average; 2 belonged to Kensington, 4 (including 2 of persons residing at 7, Glasgow Terrace) to St. George Hanover Square, and 5 to Hackney sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 87, 52, and 64 in the three preceding weeks, were again 64 last week, and were 11 below the corrected average; 14 belonged to the West, and 27 to the South groups of sanitary areas. The 9 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery showed a considerable decline from recent weekly numbers, and were 7 below the corrected average; 6 were of infants aged under one year. The deaths of two infants aged 2 and 7 months were referred to choleraic diarrhoea.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 9 and 12 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 10, and were 3 below the corrected average. Two cases of undefined continued fever, and one of febricula, were registered during the week. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 89 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 4 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 260 and 296 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 228, and were 63 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 65 deaths; 54 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 18 from fractures and contusions, 2 from burns and scalds, 9 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 19 of infants aged under one year from suffocation. The 18 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—3 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 2 by kick of horse; 1 by accident on railway; 1 by fall in street; 2 by fall from window; 3 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from swing; 1 by fall from bed; 1 by fall from stool; 1 by fall in passage; 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; and 1 by injury, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 18 cases except the last. Nine cases of suicide were registered, being 1 below the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 2982 births and 1689 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 28·1 and 15·9 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 19 deaths from whooping-cough were registered. Scarlet fever caused 3 deaths in Stratford sub-district, and diphtheria 2 in Ilford sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 30·11 in.; the lowest reading was 29·64 in. at the beginning of the week, and the highest 30·26 in. on Monday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 54°·0, and 1°·5 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on Sunday, Monday, and Wednesday, but was below the average on each of the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was North-easterly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 12·3 miles per hour, which was 2·0 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. No rain was measured during the week. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 62·3 hours, against 57·1 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

Note.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly results for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.045 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ The number of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated," which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the column of the barometer is 139 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of humidity are deduced (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

— "lower," than the average.
The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

— "lower," than the average.
The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: — P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer increased to 30.17 in. by 3h. P.M.; on 21st, increased to 30.26 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 21st; decreased to 30.17 in. by 3h. P.M. on 22nd; increased to 30.21 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 22nd.

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were: from measles, 0·9 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 0·9 in Blackburn; and from whooping-cough, 1·3 in Sheffield, 1·4 in Salford, 1·9 in Wolverhampton, and 2·6 in Manchester. The 39 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 26 in London, 2 in Norwich, and 3 in Hull. Small-pox caused 4 deaths in Sheffield, one in Bristol, one in Nottingham, one in Derby, one in Oldham, one in Preston, and one in Hull, but not one in any of the twenty other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2491 BIRTHS and 1323 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 172, and the deaths 209, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 17·9 and 16·6 in the preceding two weeks, further declined last week to 16·1, and was lower than in any week since the beginning of October last. During the first nine weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 17·9 per 1,000, and was 2·7 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1323 deaths included 24 from measles, 19 from scarlet fever, 26 from diphtheria, 37 from whooping-cough, 9 from enteric fever, 19 from diarrhoea and dysentery, one from choleraic diarrhoea, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or ill-defined forms of continued fever; thus, 135 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 109 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 24. There were only 3 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week, against numbers declining from 21 to 4 on the five preceding Saturdays; and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 18 and 23 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 24, but were 49 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Pancras, and 4 to Hackney sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 13 and 17 in the two previous weeks, further rose last week to 19, but were 11 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 3 to Bethnal Green, and 5 to Poplar sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals and the London Fever Hospital contained 947 scarlet fever patients against 987 and 958 in the two preceding weeks; 96 cases were admitted to these hospitals during the week, against 92 and 72 in the two previous weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 29 and 19 in the two previous weeks, rose again last week to 26, and exceeded the corrected average by 11; 2 belonged to Paddington, 3 to St. George Hanover Square, 5 to Hackney, 3 to Poplar, 2 to Wandsworth, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 64 in each of the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 37, and were 35 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Marylebone, 3 to Camberwell, and 3 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 19 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery showed a considerable increase upon the low number in the previous week, and exceeded the corrected average by 3; 9 were of infants aged under one year, and 6 of persons aged upwards of 60 years. The death of a child, aged 8 years, in Greenwich was referred to choleraic diarrhoea.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 12 and 10 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 9, and were 3 below the corrected average. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 90 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 11 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 296 and 228 in the two preceding weeks, were last week 237, and were 26 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 73 deaths; 59 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 25 from fractures and contusions, 2 from burns and scalds, 13 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 11 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 25 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—5 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 3 by accidents on railways; 1 by fall from ladder; 1 by fall from window; 3 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from parapet; 4 by fall in street (including one during intoxication); 1 by fall on floor; 1 by fall from boy's shoulder; 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 2 by injury from machinery; 2 by injury, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 25 cases except in one of the last two. The death of a male, aged 18 years, resulted from the administration of chloroform for the purpose of a surgical operation. Eleven cases of suicide were registered, being one above the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3260 births and 1607 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 30·8 and 15·2 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 9 deaths from diphtheria, and 7 from whooping-cough were registered. The deaths in West Ham sub-district included 5 fatal cases of diphtheria and 2 of scarlet fever.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·78 in.; the lowest reading was 29·55 in. on Wednesday morning, and the highest 30·07 in. on Friday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 55·8, and 1°·3 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday, but was below the average on each of the other days of the week. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 11·1 miles per hour, which was 0·9 mile above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on Wednesday, to the amount of 0·16 inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 43·8 hours, against 55·2 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.046 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the eastern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; and a correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 3 A.M., noon, 3 P.M., and 9 P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and of the same when years ending 1889 have been corrected by the readings of the mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer. The mean daily value of the maximum and minimum of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and decrease of humidity of the air (column 9). The mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metric Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 15 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Office Market at Doptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are—P, positive; N, negative; w, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; and v, variable.

The numbers in column 29 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.57 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.57 in. on the 9th. A.M. on the 23th of May; increased to 29.87 in. by noon on the 24th; decreased to 29.91 in.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 16·2 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were: from scarlet fever, 1·0 in Cardiff; and from whooping-cough, 1·3 in Wolverhampton, 1·4 in Bolton and in Manchester, and 1·7 in Huddersfield. The death-rates from measles and "fever" did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 31 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 22 in London, 2 in Liverpool, and 2 in Birmingham. Small-pox caused 6 deaths in Sheffield, 4 in Preston, and one in Bristol, but not one in any of the twenty-four other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2430 BIRTHS and 1219 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 250, and the deaths 276, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had declined from 17·9 to 16·1 in the preceding three weeks, further fell last week to 14·9, and was lower than in any week since September last. During the first ten weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 17·6 per 1,000, and was 2·8 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

The 1219 deaths included 25 from measles, 23 from scarlet fever, 22 from diphtheria, 33 from whooping-cough, 8 from enteric fever, one from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 18 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or cholera; thus, 130 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 109 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 22. There were no small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals at the end of last week (the numbers on the preceding six Saturdays having declined from 21 to 3), or in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The deaths from measles, which had risen from 18 to 24 in the previous three weeks, were 25 last week, but were 47 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Hackney sanitary area. The fatal cases of scarlet fever, which had risen from 13 to 19 in the preceding three weeks, further increased to 23 last week, but were 6 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Stepney, 5 to Poplar, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals and the London Fever Hospital contained 928 scarlet fever patients, against 958 and 947 in the preceding two weeks; 102 cases were admitted to these hospitals during the week, against 72 and 96 in the previous two weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had numbered 19 and 26 in the previous two weeks, fell to 22 last week, but were 6 above the corrected average; 2 (both in one house in Haverstock Road) belonged to Pancras, 2 to Hackney, and 2 to St. George-in-the-East sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 64 and 37 in the preceding two weeks, further fell last week to 33, and were 32 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Kensington, 3 to Chelsea, 2 to Stepney, 2 to St. George Southwark, and 2 to Battersea sanitary areas. The deaths from diarrhoea and dysentery, which had been 9 and 19 in the preceding two weeks, were 18 last week, and were 3 below the corrected average; 12 were of infants under one year of age.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had fallen from 12 to 9 in the previous three weeks, were 8 last week, and were 3 below the corrected average. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 89 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 6 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 228 and 237 in the preceding two weeks, fell last week to 185, and were 77 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 51 deaths; 41 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 16 from fractures and contusions, 4 from burns and scalds, 8 from drowning, and 11 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 16 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:— 3 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 1 by accident on railway; 9 by fall down stairs, from height, and otherwise; 2 by blow; and 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 16 cases. Eight cases of suicide were registered, being one below the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3224 births and 1534 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 30·4 and 14·5 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 7 deaths from whooping-cough, and 5 from diphtheria, were registered. The latter disease caused 2 deaths in West Ham sub-district, and scarlet fever 2 in Kingston sub-district. A death from hydrophobia was recorded in Acton sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·69 in.; the highest reading was 29·96 in. on Tuesday morning, and the lowest 29·40 in. on Saturday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 58°·9, and 0°·7 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1863. The mean showed an excess on Sunday and Monday, but was below the average on the following two days, approximating to the average on the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10·2 miles per hour, which was 0·2 of a mile below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on four days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·17 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 21·2 hours, against 13·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of MAY 1888; according to their returns 168,736,939 gallons or 766,649 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 229 gallons (104·0 decalitres), rather more than a ton by weight, to each house, and 29·3 gallons (13·3 decalitres) to each person, against 28·4 gallons during May 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING MAY.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.
8th June, 1888.

SIR, I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of May.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·3, New River 0·6, Tottenham 0·8, Colne Valley 1·5, Grand Junction 1·7, Lambeth 1·7, East London 1·8, West Middlesex 2·3, Chelsea 2·5, Southwark 2·6.

The reduction in the proportion of organic matter present in the Thames water supplied by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies, which was observed in April, was further continued during the past month, the absolute amount being in every case small for river water. All the samples were clear and bright.

The water principally derived from the Lea, and distributed by the New River and East London Companies also exhibited a corresponding diminution in the organic matter, the New River Company's water ranking in this respect with the deep well waters. Both samples were clear and bright.

The deep-well water of the Kent and Colne Valley Companies contained as usual only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company, by softening their supply with lime, thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all domestic purposes.

The water of the Tottenham Local Board of Health, although containing but a trace of organic matter, was slightly turbid and the suspended matter, on microscopical examination, was seen to contain moving organisms.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, Colne Valley, and New River, clear and colourless; East London, clear and nearly colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth, clear and very pale yellow; Tottenham, slightly turbid and colourless.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town "contained less organic matter but more nitrate than in the previous month."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

I am, &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

* Analysed by Dr. Alfred Hill, F.I.C., Medical Officer of Health and Analyst to the Borough.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College.

All the numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 23rd May at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 14°·3 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 25·66 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·126 lb. of carbon and ·023 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·194 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·217 lb. The above weight of water also contained 1·9 lbs. of chlorine; and 17·7 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

Note.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Police Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

The numbers in parentheses are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.41 per cent. for increase of population.

As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated," when are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical man, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death is the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of the temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P, positive; N, negative; w, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; v, variable.

The numbers in column 22, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.85 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.43 in. at the end of the week.

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were: from measles, 1·4 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 1·0 in Cardiff; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Cardiff, 1·3 in Blackburn, and 2·1 in Manchester. The death-rate from "fever" did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 25 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 18 in London, 2 in Liverpool, and 2 in Manchester. Small-pox caused 6 deaths in Preston, 2 in Sheffield, 2 in Hull, one in Leeds, one in Manchester, and one in Bristol, but not one in any of the twenty-one other great provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2399 BIRTHS and 1167 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 254, and the deaths 274, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had declined from 17·9 to 14·9 in the preceding four weeks, further fell last week to 14·2, and was lower than in any week since September 1885. During the first eleven weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 17·3 per 1,000, and was 2·8 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

The 1167 deaths included 21 from measles, 19 from scarlet fever, 18 from diphtheria, 34 from whooping-cough, 8 from enteric fever, one from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 16 from diarrhœa and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or cholera; thus, 117 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 115 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 21. There were again, on Saturday last, no small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, or in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The deaths from measles, which had risen from 18 to 25 in the previous four weeks, fell to 21 last week, and were 45 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Hackney and 3 to Mile End Old Town sanitary areas. The fatal cases of scarlet fever, which had risen from 13 to 23 in the preceding four weeks, fell last week to 19, and were 10 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Mile End Old Town, 2 to Poplar, 2 to Lambeth, and 3 (all patients in the South-eastern Hospital taken from one house in Wycliffe Road, Lavender Hill,) to Battersea sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals and the London Fever Hospital contained 904 scarlet fever patients, against 947 and 928 on the preceding two Saturdays; 72 cases were admitted during the week, against 96 and 102 in the preceding two weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 26 and 22 in the previous two weeks, further fell to 18 last week, but were 2 above the average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Lambeth, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had declined from 64 to 33 in the preceding three weeks, were 34 last week, and were 24 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Islington, 6 to Lambeth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths from diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 19 and 18 in the preceding two weeks, fell last week to 16, and were 11 below the corrected average; 10 were of infants under one year of age.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had declined from 12 to 8 in the previous four weeks, were again 8 last week, and were 3 below the corrected average. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 88 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 11 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 237 and 185 in the preceding two weeks, rose last week to 213, but were 24 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 71 deaths; 54 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 18 from fractures and contusions, 10 from burns and scalds, 8 from drowning, one from poison, and 11 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 18 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—6 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 1 by accident on railway; 10 by fall from height, and otherwise; and 1 by bursting of grindstone. An inquest was held in each of these cases. Fourteen cases of suicide were recorded, being 6 above the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3117 births and 1438 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 29·4 and 13·6 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 8 deaths from whooping-cough, 6 from scarlet fever, 6 from diphtheria, and 5 from "fever," were registered. In West Ham sub-district, 4 deaths from scarlet fever, 3 from diphtheria, and 2 from "fever," were recorded; 2 deaths from diphtheria occurred in Walthamstow sub-district. The death of a woman occurred in Barnet workhouse whose age was stated to be 104 years.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·75 in.; the highest reading was 29·94 in. on Sunday evening, and the lowest 29·52 in. on Tuesday afternoon. The mean temperature of the air was 57°·1, and 1°·9 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on Monday and Tuesday, but was below the average on the other days of the week. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10·9 miles per hour, which was 0·4 of a mile above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·54 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 51·7 hours, against 49·2 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

GENERAL REMARKS.

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean readings of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the mean daily value of temperature of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glasher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; v. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer increased from 29.80 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.94 in.

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were: from scarlet fever, 1·0 in Cardiff; from whooping-cough, 1·2 in Salford, 1·3 in Blackburn and in Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 1·4 in Leicester, and 2·2 in Derby; from "fever" 1·0 in Preston and 1·1 in Huddersfield. The death-rate from measles did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 29 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 15 in London, 2 in Leicester, 2 in Salford, and 2 in Leeds. Small-pox caused 5 deaths in Sheffield, one in Leeds, 2 in Preston, and one in Manchester, but not one in any of the twenty-three other great provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2534 BIRTHS and 1190 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 176, and the deaths 256, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been so low as 14·9 and 14·2 in the preceding two weeks, was 14·5 last week, and lower than in any week (with the exception of the previous week) since September last. During the first twelve weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 17.1 per 1,000, and was 2.9 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last inter-censal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1190 deaths included 18 from measles, 10 from scarlet fever, 15 from diphtheria, 33 from whooping-cough, 15 from enteric fever, 18 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, any ill-defined form of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 109 deaths were referred to these diseases, being no fewer than 138 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 22. There was only one patient under treatment for this disease in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and none in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The deaths from measles, which had declined from 25 to 21 in the preceding two weeks, further fell to 18 last week, and were 53 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Islington sanitary area. The fatal cases of scarlet fever, which had been 19, 23, and 19 in the previous three weeks, fell last week to 10, and were 19 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Westminster sanitary area. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals and the London Fever Hospital contained 895 scarlet fever patients, against 928 and 904 on the preceding two Saturdays; 81 cases were admitted during the week, against 102 and 72 in the previous two weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had declined from 26 to 18 in the preceding three weeks, further fell to 15 last week, and corresponded with the corrected average; 3 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Hackney, and 2 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The deaths from whooping-cough, which had numbered 33 and 34 in the preceding two weeks, were 33 last week, and 26 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Fulham, 2 to Chelsea, 3 to Pancras, 3 to Islington, 3 to St. Luke's, 2 to Mile End Old Town, 3 to Lambeth, and 6 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths from diarrhoea and dysentery, which had declined from 19 to 16 in the preceding three weeks, numbered 18 last week, but were 19 below the corrected average; 15 were of infants under one year of age.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 8 in each of the previous two weeks, rose last week to 15, and were 5 above the corrected average; 3 belonged to Bethnal Green, 4 to Poplar, and 2 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals and the London Fever Hospital contained 86 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 185 and 213 in the preceding two weeks, declined again to 184 last week, and were 38 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 63 deaths; 52 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 20 from fractures and contusions, 3 from burns and scalds, 8 from drowning, 4 from poison, and 12 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 20 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—7 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 1 by accident on railway; 1 by kick from horse; 7 by fall—from height, down stairs, and otherwise; 1 by fall of sill upon foot; 1 by collision at play; 1 by crushing in lift; 1 by head striking against window-sill. An inquest was held in each of these 20 cases. Ten cases of suicide were recorded, being one above the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3254 births and 1486 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 30.7 and 14.0 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 11 deaths from whooping-cough and 9 from diphtheria were registered. Three deaths from diphtheria occurred in West Ham and 2 in Wimbledon sub-districts. Three deaths from whooping-cough were recorded in Walthamstow sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29.90 in.; the highest reading was 30.04 in. on Monday evening, and the lowest 29.72 in. on Wednesday afternoon. The mean temperature of the air was 54° 2, and 6° 3 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average throughout the week, the deficiency on the first four days of the week ranging from 8° 7 to 10° 5. The general direction of the wind was N.N.E., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10.4 miles per hour, which was 0.4 of a mile above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on four days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0.27 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 17.7 hours, against 14.4 hours at Glyde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.04 per cent. for increase of population. ‡ As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

† These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

‡ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

NOTE.—The Italic letters placed against the names of the sub-districts denote Public Institutions situated therein, namely: W—Workhouses; H—Hospital; L—Lunatic Asylum; W—A Workhouse Establishment receiving inmates from other Districts than that in which it stands see note at the foot of next page. The Roman capitals signify the Water Companies which supply the different sub-districts:—G.J. signifies Grand Junction Company; W.M. West Middle ex; C. Chelsea; S. Southwark and Vauxhall; L. Lambeth; N.R. New River; E.L. East London; and K. the Kent Company.
